By Bus

There are two bus stops in Bridge Trafford for connections to Chester. They are the Ince Lane bus stop and the Nag's Head bus stop. Both stops are about a 10 - 15 minute walk from Trafford Hall. If you have a train or bus to catch in Chester, you should allow plenty of time to get there!

Buses from Bridge Trafford to Chester: walk down the driveway, turn left at the junction with the road (Ince Lane) and continue walking until you reach the main road (Warrington Road). The Ince Lane bus stop is just across the main road to the right of the junction. To get to the Nag's Head bus stop, continue walking to the right along the main road and cross the road opposite the Nag's Head pub.

Buses from Chester to Bridge Trafford: buses leave from Stand 1B/1C at the main bus station on Hunter Street, just behind the tourist information centre. It is also possible to catch the bus from Hoole Bridge, near to Chester train station. To get to Hoole Bridge, turn right out of the train station entrance, keep walking until you see some steps leading up to the bridge. Walk up the steps, turn right, cross to the other side of the bridge and keep walking for about 3 minutes until you come to the bus stop.

Get off the bus at the Nag's Head pub in Bridge Trafford. With the pub on your left, walk along the pavement and turn left at the next junction to continue down Ince Lane (follow signs to golf course). Walk past the golf course and the Trafford Hall driveway will be on your right. Ince Lane bus stop
