

Trafford Hall

is the home of The National Communities Resource Centre, a registered charity. It offers training and support to all those living and working in low income communities in the United Kingdom to develop their skills, confidence and capacity to tackle problems and reverse poor conditions.

Using Trafford Hall's conference facilities makes a vital contribution to the charitable work undertaken at the centre as all surpluses made from our sales are invested to ensure the development and continuation of this important work.

A warm welcome

Trafford Hall is a beautiful Georgian country house set in the tranquil Cheshire countryside, five miles from the historic city of Chester and just minutes away from major motorway networks. A unique venue, Trafford Hall has over ten years experience in hosting events ranging from conferences to training workshops and business meetings.

Set in 14 acres of beautiful gardens, woods, and meadows the Hall provides an inspirational environment with the gardens providing an excellent space for team building activities, as well as an ideal place to relax and unwind.

What people say about us

“ The staff throughout our weekend stay were so helpful and easy going, nothing was too much trouble for them, something that I haven't experienced in other venues. ”

Heather Parker - ASHIANA HOUSING ASSOCIATION

“ The buildings, resources and the gardens work really well from a facilitators point of view, and the staff work hard with us to deliver the whole residential learning experience. ”

Ronnie Hughes - A SENSE OF PLACE

“ Thanks for providing a great venue to train in. It really is a lovely place, and all delegates enjoyed the atmosphere and the food. ”

Vicki Jennings - PROJECT MANAGER (TRAINING), CSE
